

Abstract

This study assesses customer satisfaction with the products and services offered by Ultra Modern Doors and Windows in Theni. It evaluates factors such as product quality, variety, pricing, customer service, and after-sales support. By understanding customer preferences and expectations, the research aims to provide insights that can help the company improve its offerings, enhance customer loyalty, and strengthen its market position in the construction and interior design industry.